CONTEXT:

The concept of the HEI Social Responsibility is an extension of the spirit of corporate social responsibility (CSR), which is based on the pursuit of knowledge and truth, the cultivation of civic awareness, and the long-term development of society. Social responsibility in respect of HEI describes the way we're making a difference to the social and economic wellbeing of our communities through our teaching, research, and public events and activities. The essence of a HEI is to assume social responsibility, and teachers, students, and administrators must respond through teaching, research, and public affairs participation so that the HEI can become a place of hope for future development. Moreover, HEI Social Responsibility believes that institutions should be involved in community services, sustainable economic development, ecological, social, environmental, and technical societal development.

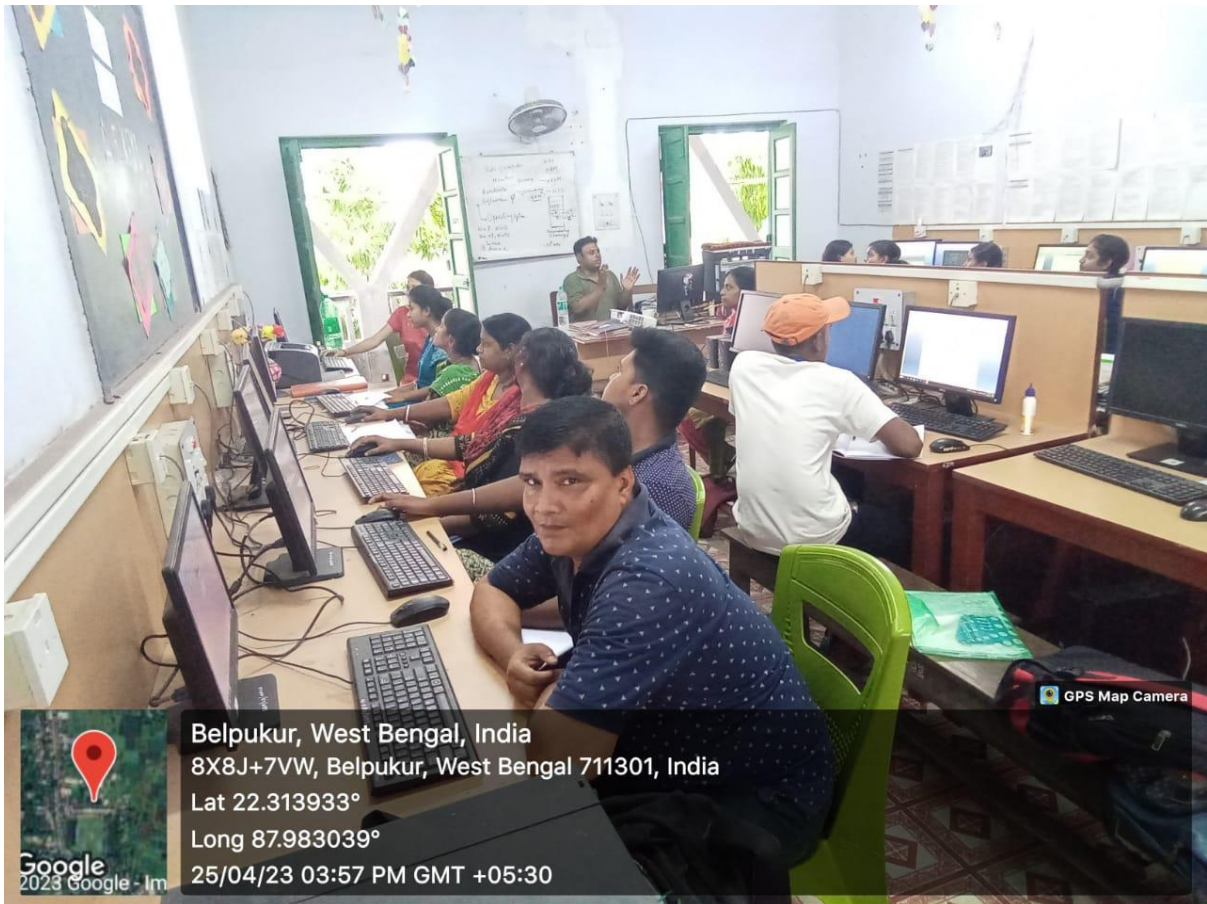

In this context, BINDU (the droplet)) is our very small initiation through which we have been involved in community services, ecological, social, environmental, and technical societal development. As a part of this, our institution adopts a neighbouring village - "Nouripara".

PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED AND RESOURCES REQUIRED:

In our perpetual journey we are walking together only for few months (from 11th April, 2022). We are facing problem many times. But we can't feel it as a problem. We take it as a challenge. We both try to remove our conflict by talking with each other. We always try to provide our internal resources to develop our adopted village. In near future we have decided to establish free music school by utilizing own resources from our music department. We know, "Free School on Art & Crafts” has been run very well as our college students who have much knowledge in this field, are teaching the children of Nouripara village. Inclusive involvement of all stakeholders is needed for this venture. This is only the obstacle. We think in near future it will be removed. We know funding is always a motivating instrument. Hence in this point of view, more funding is our required resource.
