INTRODUCTION

Basic human values refer to those values which are at the core of being human. The values which are considered basic inherent values in humans include truth, honesty, loyalty, love, peace, etc. because they bring out the fundamental goodness of human beings and society at large. Human values are integral part of one's personality and affects employability quotient. Many employers are inclined to hire those who have better human values. Like values, professional ethics provide rules on how a person should act towards other people and institutions. Human values like dedication, integrity, and responsibility make a person successful in his\ her field. Professional Ethics guide how members of a professional organization should or should not, affect others in the course of practicing their profession. Human values are basic components of Professional Ethics.
